What are cookies and similar technologies?

Cookies are small, often encrypted files of letters and numbers that are stored in browser directories or the hard drive of your computer or electronic device when you visit the website or use applications. The cookies are used to make websites and applications work more efficiently and perform certain functions, e.g., store information about your preferences, provide statistical information to us. This helps us to give you better experience when you browse and helps us to make our services better for you.

In this Cookies policy, we've explained how and why we use cookies, and what each of them do.

FINCI uses the following types of cookies:

First-party cookies (FPC)	Cookies stored directly by our Website and/or App. It allows us to perform useful functions that help provide good user experience.
Third-party cookies (TPC)	Cookies provided by the third parties, such as Cloudflare, Google to track website activity such as session duration, pages per session, bounce rate etc. of individuals using the webpage, along with the information on the source of the traffic.

Strictly necessary	Cookies are strictly necessary to provide you with services available and to use some of their features. Because these cookies are strictly necessary to deliver our services safely, you cannot refuse them without impacting how our website functions. You can block or delete them by changing your browser settings. The use of strictly necessary cookies on our Website and/or App is possible without your consent because of our legitimate interest in offering a technically flawless website (Art 6 (1) (f) GDPR). For this reason, strictly necessary cookies cannot be deactivated or activated individually.
Functional cookies	Enable Website and/or App to remember information that changes the way the website behaves or looks, like your preferred language or the region that you are in. If you opt out of using these cookies, then some or all these services may not function properly. The legal basis for the use of functional cookies is Art. 6 (1) (a) of the GDPR - your consent. You can revoke your consent to the use of functional cookies at any time with effect for the future. The link to the cookie settings can be found on the bottom of the page.
Analytical cookies	Cookies used to count visits and traffic sources, so we can measure and improve the performance of our website. They help us know which pages are the most and least popular and see how visitors move around the site. If you decline these cookies, your visit will not be part of our statistics. The legal basis for the use of analytical cookies is Art. 6 (1) (a) of the GDPR - your consent. You can revoke your consent to the use of analytical cookies at any time with effect for the future. The link to the cookie settings can be found on the bottom of the page. The services required for these analytical purposes may transfer data about your use of this website outside the EU/EEA, i.e. to a third country. Other third countries may not have the same data protection laws as the European Union/European Economic Area so your data may not be subject to the same protection. However, in such cases, we will make sure that any transfer of your data to countries outside the European Union/European Economic Area is subject to appropriate safeguards set out in data protection laws (e.g. data can be transmitted based on Data privacy framework or signed EU Standard Contractual Clauses).
Marketing cookies	Used for user information collection to build a profile of visitor interests and then show personalized ads for that specific user. It helps us to be aware of your content preferences on the website to provide you with the most relevant information about our products and services, improve our targeting and enhance your activities on our website. If you decline these cookies, you will experience more generic and less personalized advertising. The legal basis for the use of marketing cookies is Art. 6 (1) (a) of the GDPR – your consent. You can revoke your consent to the use of marketing cookies at any time with effect for the future. The link to the cookie settings can be found on the bottom of the page. The services required for these marketing purposes may transfer data about your use of this website outside the EU/EEA, i.e. to a third country. Other third countries may not have the same data protection laws as the European Union/European Economic Area so your data may not be subject to the same protection. However, in such cases, we will make sure that any transfer of your data to countries outside the European Union/European Economic Area is subject to appropriate safeguards set out in data protection laws (e.g. data can be transmitted based on Data privacy framework or signed EU Standard Contractual Clauses).

Strictly necessary cookies are placed by default. For cookies used for functional, analytical and marketing purposes, we ask for your consent. By giving your consent to the cookie banner displayed when you visit the Website and/or App, you choose whether you allow certain categories of cookies to be used.

You can find detailed information about the cookies used, including their purpose, description, and retention period, in the cookie banner available at the bottom of the Website.

Managing or deleting the cookies
